

Adda Faye, Chief Financial Officer

June 2020

Adda Faye became the Chief Financial Officer at the Global Fund in June 2020. Leading the Finance Division, Faye oversees the financial management and administration functions of the Global Fund, playing a key role in ensuring adequacy and effectiveness of internal controls, while protecting and optimizing the financial resources to accelerate the Global Fund's work toward ending epidemics.

Faye brings over 15 years of experience in strategic financial management and a deep understanding of the Global Fund's financial and administrative functions. Before her selection through a competitive search process, Faye served as the Global Fund's interim Chief Financial Officer since February 2020.

Her expertise includes strategic financial performance, financial reporting, change management, and business process improvement. She has an extensive track record of leading finance teams and harnessing team strengths to improve organizational performance.

Faye began her career at the Global Fund as a Finance Specialist in Country Teams, before moving up to more senior leadership roles. Throughout her impressive journey at the Global Fund, she has made huge contributions and played an influential role in the organization's transformation agenda.

Before joining the Global Fund, Adda started her International Development career under the UNESCO Young Professionals Program at UNESCO Headquarters in Paris and worked as a Finance Analyst at the Ministry of Finance of the Gambia under the Divestiture Program responsible for Public Enterprises performance.

Faye is a dual citizen of The Gambia and France, studied Finance and Economics at New Jersey City University (USA) and earned a Master's degree in Financial Aspects of Decision Management at the University of Bedfordshire (UK). She completed the Advanced Management and Leadership Programme at Saïd Business School, Oxford University (UK).
